Foreword

Time is a precious commodity one which can never be replenished

There is a time for victory,
defeat, reward, and honor,
which can come and go
in a fleeting moment.

At Carthage High School such times are frequent.

We, the staff, have attempted to capture glimpses of life at Carthage High School in the vastness of time.

Miss Helen Rider

Dedication

There is a time for recognizing a person who has contributed to the success of Carthage High School. We, of the 1967 PINE BURR, wish to honor one whose time has been spent in preparing Carthage youth in the field of mathematics. Miss Helen Rider has striven to improve her teaching through constant participation in summer workshops and mathematic institutes. Miss Rider has sponsored the senior class this year and in the past years she has been a friend to the students in her classes. Her witty sayings, her clever board displays, and her quiet assurance have lent an air of friendly learning to CHS. We salute Miss Helen Rider.

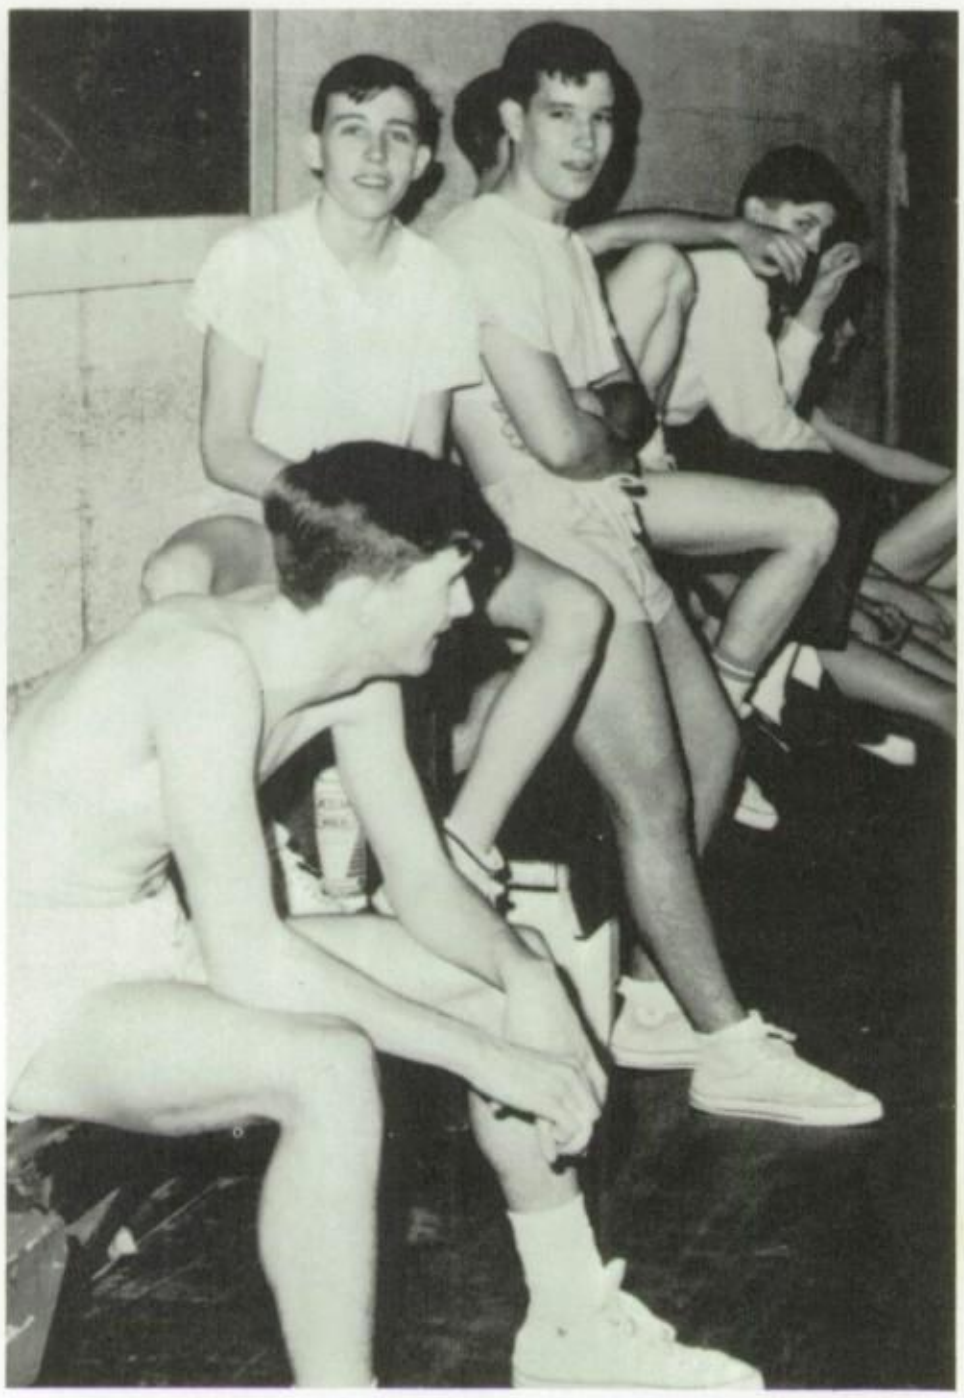
A Time For Curriculum And Study

During the four years a student attends Carthage High School, he may enter a variety of courses. Three directions of study are offered. A student may choose to follow science and engineering, or general college preparatory, or minimum and vocational course to attain his diploma.

Experience is a very useful teacher in the Homemaking department.

Study hall gives students an extra chance to study and to do homework.



Relaxing after working hard is part of victory, too.

Within CHS one may see any number of teams. Each team has a time to devote to its plans for victory. The students and faculty form our largest team. Each class, each department, and each club contribute to the victories of Carthage High School. Once a member of the team, you are always considered a member, either active or inactive.

CHS Favorites

Ten CHS favorites were selected this year for the first time due to a ruling by the Student Council. In the past, CHS elected a boy and girl who were the Best School Citizen, Most Courteous, Cutest Couple, Friendliest, Wittiest, and Most Athletic. The students had such difficulty in deciding on the right category in which to place a student, therefore the PINE BURR staff and Student Council members elected to do away with the old honors. Thus, the students of CHS elected ten classmates to be the CHS Favorites.

Carthage is proud of its scholastic achievement, which is so strongly promoted by the High School Honor Society.

Although many students fail to realize the importance of the Honor Society, to be a member of such an organization is one of the most important parts of one's high school career.

The honor roll, which is announced each six weeks, is based upon the top 15% plus the points that a student receives according to the courses he is taking. For instance, a student taking physics receives more points than a student taking homemaking. Thus a student who makes all A's may not necessarily make the honor roll. When a student has been named to the honor roll three times in one year, he is eligible to become a member of the Honor Society. Each student receives an honor pin representing his membership.

Student Council Directs School Activities

As a governing body, a council can do much for the student body of a school. Included among the year's activities of CHS's Student Council were selling ribbons and conducting pep rallies and bonfires during football season, sponsoring a Sweetheart Dance and other parties, decorating the Christmas tree for the school, and helping with the Heart Fund and March of Dimes Drives.

Other annual events sponsored by the council were Twirp Week and Western Day in the spring. Koonce students who are to be entering high school were given information from council members on what to expect next year.

The Student Council consists of the officers, homeroom representatives, organization presidents, class presidents, and editors of publications. Each homeroom was given a copy of the minutes of each meeting so that all students would know what had been planned.

For the second straight year, the CHS publication received the Texas High School Press Association Championship in Denton, plus an Award of Distinguished Merit at the Interscholastic Press Conference in Austin. With their adviser, Miss Virginia Knapp, students attended the SMU Forum at Dallas in October, the THSPA Convention at Denton in December, and the ILPC at Austin in March.

Award-winning journalists included Susie Shell, who won second place on the paper's Christmas cover; Paul Palmer, who placed second in features, Leisa Smith placed fifth in editorials. Palmer was also managing editor of the Sweatshopper at Texas A&M Workshop in July.

Special color editions were the Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, and Senior editions. Throughout the season, the 43 students enjoyed a Christmas Party at the Durrett's home, a dinner and movie in Shreveport, and an all-day picnic at Lake Murvaul in June.

The Library Assistants certainly do their part in devoting time and energy to the school. Daily activities include filing, checking, and repairing books; as well as helping students find materials. During National Library Week, April 16-22, the club was responsible for many activities. Some of these were bulletin boards, rotunda displays, and book reports. The group also engaged in several parties during the year. Through training, these students encourage appreciation for the library.

Library Assistants are Miss Nell Copeland, Becky Sharp, Dawn Dison, Nedra Johnson, Donn Sharp, Debbie Rhiddlehoover, Wanda Boyd, Linda Wooley, Charlotte Hudson, Charlen Soape, Christine Rich, Jackie Hays.

The Distributive Education program gives interested students the opportunity to finish high school and work at the same time. The group went to the Shreveport Fair in the fall. Dinner at El Chico's and a Hamburger Party were also held. Members received jackets this year.

For their fund-raising campaign, the club sold fruit cakes. Time is given to service for the school by arranging the activity bulletin board in the rotunda. The yearly highlight is the Employer-Employee Banquet in May. Selected as Outstanding Employers were Lovell Kelly and Carson Cockrum.

Future Homemakers Discuss Food, Fun, and Family Life

The FHA chapter helps to encourage homemaking abilities in its members. The annual Family Fun Night for the girls and their families was held in October. In December, students gave a Christmas Party for their Rusk State Hospital Project. They also attended the Area FHA meeting in Nacogdoches on April 1. Four went to the State FHA meeting in Dallas, April 20-22.

During National FHA Week, April 2-8, a gift was presented to the Panda County Rest Home. Two impressive rotunda displays were arranged. Two style shows were also held. In the fall, the theme was "Twas the Night Before Christmas"; in the spring, "Springtime." Members saw programs on degrees and projects at club meetings. To end the year, there was a picnic at Lake Murvaul.

Starting the year for the FFA was the Sweetheart Contest. Next, around 50 members attended the State Fair. Dale Koonce and Jim Hardy went to the National FFA Convention at Kansas City in October. The local chapter had five teams that entered the District Leadership Contest at Kilgore. Two teams went on to Area Contest.

At the Houston Fat Stock Show, there were four teams who were in the Judging Contest and four boys who showed animals. Local boys won the County Forestry Judging Contest and went to state at Nacogdoches. Programs were provided for the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs. The club also celebrated National FFA Week with downtown window exhibits, rotunda displays, and large posters.

A local project show and sale was held, in which 75 animals were involved. Approximately 150 were present for the annual Parent-Son Banquet. Much time and hard work also goes into the FFA Parade and Rodeo. The local FFA won a Gold-Star Emblem for being an Outstanding Chapter in the State. Plans are also being made to attend State FFA Convention in Dallas this summer where four boys are entered in the State Farmer Award Program.

Audio Visual Aides Attend to Equipment

Devoting considerable time to the school is the audio-visual department. This organization consists of trained members who provide help for the faculty and student body by ordering films and filmstrips and by issuing tape recorders, film projectors, and other equipment. The club is also responsible for the maintenance of this equipment. Students work in this department during their study halls and activity periods.

D'ARCY NELSON

Much work and time is devoted to publishing an annual of which the student body can be proud. This is just what this year's staff has done. At the Texas A & M Publications Workshop in the summer, Mary Higginbotham and Hazel Hichols represented the PINE BURR. Our cover design, the one on this yearbook, won third in state competition. Another interesting factor is the mondrian make-up on the theme sheets. This play on cubism is used in most magazines and newspapers today. It creates balance, harmony, and a solid sense of unity.

To start this school year off, staff members met at the Higginbotham home to plan coming activities. The selling of ads was discussed, also. After these were sold, each student settled down to the task of preparing his own section.

Portrays Life of CHS

Much teamwork is needed on this type of work, however. Attending the Texas High School Press Association at Denton, were Paul Palmer, Le Anne Duckworth, Karen Craddock, Jane Jones, Judy Shumate, and Miss Virginia Knapp. Here, the '66 annual won an All-Texas rating. At the Taylor Publishing Company Workshop in Mt. Pleasant, Judy Shumate, Jean Allison, Paul Palmer, Jan Jones, Leisa Smith, Le Anne Duckworth, Susie Shell, Karen Craddock, and Miss Knapp represented CHS. Problems of yearbook layout were studied.

Most of the group's social events corresponded with the school's newspaper staff. Included in these were out-of-town forums, dinner, parties, and other trips.

Boosting school spirit in athletic events throughout the year was the Pep Squad. Members support the Bulldogs at Pep Rallies and ball games. At the beginning of football season in the fall, a Kick-Off Party was sponsored. The group also formed a friendship circle and a victory line for each game. The Pep Squad consisted of approximately 110 girls who devoted time and effort to the organization by making signs and posters, and by participating in various other activities.

CHS Band Plays fo

One of the first activities of the band for the year was playing at the football games and at pep rallies. They provided half-time entertainment and helped promote spirit. In October, the local music-makers participated in the S. F. A. Homecoming Parade. On November 5, the South Zone Twirling. Contest was held at Kilgore. On November 22, they attended the Marching Contest at Longview.

The CHS Band also marched in the Christmas Parade in December. They were in the All-Region Concert at Jacksonville in January. Another activity included in that month was area tryouts for the all-state band in Lufkin, in which Tommy Heaton was chosen as a member. The group played for the Lions Minstrel and the S. F. A. Stage Band contest.

One of the highlights of the year was the Band Banquet. This was the first year for this activity and members helped to make it a memorable occasion. Awards and trophies were presented to outstanding band students at the banquet.

On March 18, the South Zone Solo and Ensemble Contest was entered. Included in the Band Concert held April 4 were first-year, Junior, and Senior bands. The Concert and Sight Reading Contests were held in Pine Tree.

In May, the Band performed for the FFA Parade and Rodeo. Also, solo and ensemble students played for the Carthage Music Club. Twirling tryouts were held at S. F. A. Drum Major tryouts were the following day.

Several activities are already lined up for the summer. On June 5, the Solo and Ensemble State contest will be at Texas University in Austin. On the ninth, the Stage Band will play for the Miss Panola County Beauty Pageant. During the later part of the summer, the band will play for the Cattlemen's Parade and Rodeo.

Bulldogs Top Expectations

Carthage's High School Bulldogs were the Cinderella team of District 7-AAA this year as they recorded an 8-2 won-lost column and beat Nacogdoches, champs of the district. Two teams poured buckets of cold water on the 'Dogs chances of a championship, those teams were Jacksonville and Palestine, neither of which were to make very much noise in league standings. The Bulldogs finished with the best record in the conference.

MAINTENANCE MEN
Mr. Donald Jaynes and Mr. Thouston Hunt who retired in February after twenty-one years of service to the Carthage school district.

A Time For . . . Service

CAFETERIA WORKERS
Mrs. Hazel Cross, Mrs. Casette Chamness, Mrs. Mandy James, Mrs. Reba Cromwell, Mrs. Eugenia Ratley, Mrs. Johnnie Pitts, Mrs. Emma Marry, and Mrs. Ida Brown.

The maintenance workers of Carthage High School seldom receive proper credit. These citizens keep our school functioning properly throughout the entire school year. The cafeteria ladies are equally as valuable to CHS students. These hard workers provide a balanced lunch for those students who take advantage of the cafeteria facilities.

The students of Koonce Junior School are engaged in their first activities and functions in which they experience young adult-type participation. The student may take part in the Student Council, assemblies, elections, and exams while in Junior High.

Student Council

The officers of the Student Council are these: Diane Goeke, president; Kirk Brewster, vice-president; Judy Hull, secretary; and Cynthia Brooks, reporter.

The Student Council represents the governing factor of the student body. The Council is responsible for various fund raising projects, the annual Pine Burr party, and the assembly programs.

Students learn much about high school organizations and gain valuable experience by participating in the Student Council.

The award of Outstanding Student is one of the most coveted awards at Koonce. It is presented annually by the faculty to six students, who are recognized not only for intellect but also for citizenship and leadership.

This award indicates those students who will become the leaders of the future in Carthage High School.

Koonce Choir

Triple Trio

Amy Hudson, Jane Jimerson, Debbie Bailey, Linda Hunt, Candy Davis, Denise Smith, Donette Duke, Barbara Pierce, Kathy Hooker, and seated, Judy Jimerson.

Koonce strives to bring out the talents and interests of its students as well as intellect. The band and choir teach participation and competition, while library assistants learn service and cooperation. A new aid in learning was begun this year at Koonce. This organization is the "See and Hear" which attempts to teach through tapes, filmstrips, and records.

As a whole, Koonce extracurricular activities endeavor to fulfill the student's character and to prepare him for high school.

THE CLOCK OF LIFE

The Clock of Life is wound but once
And no man has the power
To tell just when the hands will stop,
At late or early hour.

Now is the only time we own call
Love, Live, toil with a will,
Do not wait until tomorrow,
For the Clock may then be still.
